

POLITICAL THOUGHT CONFERENCE
ST. CATHERINE'S COLLEGE, OXFORD

9TH JANUARY – 11TH JANUARY 2003

Thursday 9th January

- 2.00 – 4.00           Arrival
- 4.00 – 4.30           Tea
- 4.30 – 6.00           Karen Ford, University of Manchester
                          'Republican Liberty: Some Feminist Questions'
- 6.00 – 7.00           Free Time/Bar
- 7.00 – 8.30           Dinner
- 8.30                   Rae Langton, University of Edinburgh
                          'On Objectification'

Friday 10th January

- 8.00 – 9.00           Breakfast
- 9.15 – 10.45          Véronique Munoz-Dardé, University College London
                          'In Defence of Difference: Individualistic Egalitarianism vs
                          Consequentialist Egalitarianism'
- 10.45 – 11.15        Coffee
- 11.15 – 12.45        Marc Stears, University of Cambridge
                          'Is a Comparative Political Theory Possible?'
- 1.00 – 2.00           Lunch
- 2.00 – 3.30           Free Time
- 3.45 – 4.15           Tea
- 4.15                   AGM
- 4.45 – 6.15           David Archard, University of St Andrews
                          'Political Reasonableness'
- 6.15 – 7.15           Contemporary Political Theory Reception
                          Sponsored by Palgrave, MacMillan
- 7.15 – 8.30           Dinner

8.30

David Miller, Oxford University
Thomas Pogge, Columbia University
Debate on Cosmopolitanism

Saturday 11th January

8.00 – 9.00

Breakfast

9.15 - 10.45

Melissa Lane, University of Cambridge
'Alcibiades, Thrasymachus, and us? On the Imputation of Socratic Irony'

10.45 – 11.15

Coffee

11.15 – 12.45

John Maynor, University of Sheffield
'Democratic Contestation in the Modern Republic'

12.45

Conference Ends